Fund Manager Comments

The global economic recovery is expected to continue during 2022. The IMF is forecasting that world GDP will expand 4.9% in 2022 after 5.9% in 2021. Despite the strong recovery, there are a number of factors which continue to result in volatility, including new COVID variants, challenges in vaccine rollout in the developing world, disruptions in global supply chains, significantly elevated inflation and concerns over the Chinese property sector. Global central banks have signalled the start of a withdrawal of monetary stimulus against a backdrop of inflation proving to be much higher and more persistent than previously anticipated. The challenge remains to contain elevated inflation pressures without undermining the recovery in employment and the broader economy. Against this backdrop, bond yields are expected to be volatile but central banks have previously pledged to do whatever it takes to support economic recovery and financial markets stability.

Factors that could boost global growth is 1) drawdown on massive build-up in consumer savings; 2) the wealth effect of robust financial markets; 3) pent-up demand, particularly in leisure and travel sectors; 4) continued easy monetary & fiscal policy; and 5) significant increase in OPEC oil production lowering oil prices. Factors that could constrain global growth are 1) rapidly rising inflation 2); new, more transmissible variants of Covid-19; 3) a faster-than-expected reversal of monetary and fiscal support; 4) constrained global supply chains, especially in logistics and semiconductors; and 5) increased geopolitical tension between US and China.

Global stock markets rebounded from their COVID 19 lows, with the OCGEF benchmark returning 18.4% for the year and 3.3% p.a. since the inception of OCGEF. Markets benefited from a flood in liquidity provided by central banks but key risks include rising inflation, high valuations and a reversal in fiscal and monetary support. Over the last 100 years, equity markets (Dow Jones) delivered an annualised performance of 6.3% p.a. based on nominal GDP growth of 6.5 % (3.3% p.a. real GDP growth and 3.2% inflation) for a total real return of 3.1% p.a. Our Fund, OCGEF has returned 13.6% and 7.3% p.a. respectively over the last year and since inception. The OCGEF portfolio is focused on companies with market leadership, strong competitive advantages, sustainability, outstanding management, delivering high levels of profitability and cash flow and priced below intrinsic value.
