The IMF updated its forecast for economic growth in January 2025, with the Global economy expected to grow at a steady state of 3.3 % in both 2025 and 2026, supported by declining interest rates, fiscal stimulus and consumption expenditure underpinned by real wage growth. However, this will all change. The new USA administration ramped up talks of tariffs as soon as they entered power, announcing 25% tariffs on automobile, steel, and aluminium imports, with tariff day announced for 2 April 2025. On this day it announced baseline tariffs of 10% affecting countries like the UK, Saudi Arabia, UAE and reciprocal tariffs on major trading partners including 34% for China, 26% for India, 24% for Japan and 20% for Euro Area, with even higher tariffs on lesser developed countries like 50% on Lesotho, 46% on Vietnam, 40% on Mauritius and 37% on Bangladesh.

China has swiftly responded with 34% reciprocal tariffs on USA imports and have placed controls on important rare earth commodities vital in the production of many goods. Most countries have threatened to respond with their own tariffs on the USA, resulting in a full-blown trade war. If the tariffs are fully implemented, global trade will drop significantly, mergers and acquisition activity will grind to a halt, capital investment outside the USA will fall and inflation will pick up, with lower economic growth, especially amongst the most indebted nations. With most countries having very high fiscal deficits, rising debt, ageing population, increasing interest costs and defense spending are putting budgets under further pressure, with higher deficits or crowding out other expenditure like social security and healthcare. The New USA Administration has adopted an aggressive cost reduction plan of at least $1T as it tries to address the fiscal deficit of $2T or 6% of GDP and $36T of National Debt. However, it is likely that these "savings" will be given away as tax cuts rather than reducing budget deficits and slowing the debt trajectory.

Outside the USA, most countries will try and support their economies and businesses with fiscal support, putting further pressure on their national debt levels and deficits. In the last major economic and financial market dislocations, the global financial crisis (2008) and Covid-pandemic (2020), economies were supported by massive Fiscal and Monetary stimulus (including lower interest rates and quantitative easing). This time round, with government balance sheets constrained, and tariffs fuelling inflation risk, it is unlikely that Fiscal and Monetary policy will provide a major underpin to the economy and financial markets. The next while requires steady heads and Statesmen to see us through this period of extreme uncertainty.

The global property sector had a strong recovery for the first 9 months of 2024, but reversed all of these gains in the March 2025 quarter following the rise in bond yields and global economic uncertainty. The Oasis Crescent Global Property Fund, £ class, was awarded the prestigious LSEG Lipper award for the best performing fund over a 3-year period. The fund had a return of 6.7% for the year ending March 2025, relative to a benchmark return of -0.7% for an annual outperformance of 7.4%. OCGPEF has a portfolio of high-quality Reits, with positive demand / supply fundamentals in secular growth sectors, with superior balance sheets with excellent management, the fund is well positioned with 13% cash/near cash holding. OCGPEF is well positioned to add value over the long term

Global bond yields peaked in 2023, with the US 10yr yield at 4.99% in October 2023, declining to 3.92% at the end of 2023, rising to 4.70% in April 24 and troughing in September 3.62% on the back of falling inflationary expectations and increasing to 4.60% at the end of 2024 on the back of rising inflationary expectations due to Trump tariff plans and the poor fiscal control in the US, Europe and many Emerging economies. Bond yields declined to 4.20% by the end of March 2025 and to 3.90% by 4 April 2025 as economic uncertainty increased due to the increased Trade Wars. With US inflation at 2.8%, US real 10yr yields are 1.7% compared with the 20yr real yields of -0.77%. There has been a flight to "safety" to the sovereign bond market despite the risk of rising inflation. Global central banks have started reducing policy rates, but appear to be hawkish due to rising risk and inflationary expectations, real rates ranging from 0.35% in EU, 1.70% in USA and 3.8% in China compared to 20 year average real rates of -0.79%, -0.77% and 1.44% respectively. If inflationary expectations rise due to the trade war, there is little scope to cut policy rates except for China which has substantial scope to cut policy rates.
