The new Tariff regime, the removal of incentives for electric vehicles and renewable energy and a rising dependency ratio, will result in a bipolar world. One (US and those countries who adopt a similar tariff regime) faced with higher inflationary expectations, shortages and higher cost of capital and the rest of the world with declining inflation expectations, surplus capacity and declining cost of capital. This will increase the risks to the Global Economy. Central Banks in the USA, China and Emerging Economies have scope to lower interest rates to support their economies. Europe has substantially completed its interest rate easing cycle.

With most countries having very high Fiscal deficits, high and rising debt, ageing populations, increasing interest costs and defense spending are putting budgets under further pressure, with higher deficits or crowding out other expenditure like social security and healthcare. The USA "Big Beautiful Bill" is expected to add $3-5T to their fiscal debt over 10 years. Outside the USA most countries will try and support their economies and businesses with fiscal support, thereby increasing their national debt levels and deficits. In the last major economic and financial market dislocations, the global financial crisis (2008) and Covid-pandemic (2020), economies were supported by massive Fiscal and Monetary stimulus (including lower interest rates and quantitative easing). This time round, with government balance sheets constrained, and tariffs fueling inflation risk it is unlikely that Fiscal and Monetary policies will provide major support to the Global economy and financial markets. The next while requires steady heads and Statesman to see, us through this period of extreme uncertainty.

Global bond yields peaked in 2023, with the US 10yr yield at 4.99% in October 2023, declining to 3.92% at the end of 2023, rising to 4.70% in April 2024 and troughing in September 2024 at 3.62% on the back of falling inflationary expectations and increasing to 4.6% at the end of 2024 on the back of rising inflationary expectations due to Trump tariffs plans and the easy fiscal policy in the US, Europe and many Emerging economies. US bond yields declined to 4.2% by the end of March 2025 and remained flat at 4.2% by the end of June 2025 as economic uncertainty remains elevated. With US inflation at 2.4%, US real 10yr yields are 1.8% compared with the 30 yr and 20yr real yields of 1.7% and 0.9% respectively. There has been a flight to "safety" to the Sovereign bond market despite the risk of rising inflation.

Global central banks have started reducing policy rates, but appear to be hawkish (except the EU) due to rising risk and inflationary expectations, real rates ranging from 0.15% in EU, 2.10% in USA and 3.1% in China compared to 20 year average real rates of -0.90%, -0.75% and 1.44% respectively. If inflationary expectations rise due to the trade war, there is little scope to cut policy rates except for China, US and some Emerging markets which has substantial scope to cut policy rates.

The Oasis Crescent Global Income Fund (OCGIF) and Oasis Crescent Short Term Global Income Fund (OCGSTIF) have done well, with a return of 5.7% and 5.0% respectively for the year to June 2025. The yield to maturity (with reinvestment of monthly distributions) of OCGIF is 5.4% and OCGSTIF is 3.5%. The Funds are well positioned for this volatile time, with geographic diversification and a focus on high quality Sovereign, Supranational agencies, State owned enterprises and well-regulated banks.
