Fund Manager Comments

The global economic contraction in 2020 was the worst in 50 years driven by the COVID-19 related lockdowns. The 3.3% decline in the global economy was better than expected due to massive synchronised monetary and fiscal stimulus. 2021 is expected to deliver the strongest global growth in many decades, with the global economy forecast to grow by 6.0%. 2022 growth is forecast at 4.4%. Continued monetary and fiscal stimulus supported by an aggressive vaccine rollout in some countries will boost the economic recovery. Global growth will be led by those countries like China and the U.S. (the 1st and 2nd largest world economies, respectively), which have aggressive vaccine rollouts and South-East Asia with a lower incidence of COVID-19. Regions like Europe, Latin America and Africa, who are lagging with the vaccine rollout, will have less robust economic recoveries. Factors that could boost global growth further are: a) the massive build-up in consumer savings; b) the wealth effect of robust financial markets; and c) pent-up demand. Factors that could constrain global growth are: a) new variants of COVID-19 b) sustainably high inflation c) a reversal of monetary and fiscal support d) constrained global supply chains, especially in logistics and semiconductors and e) continued geopolitical tension between US and China. In conclusion, the global economy should have robust growth in 2021 and the risks mainly impact 2022 onwards.

Global stock markets rebounded from their Covid 19 lows, with the OCGEF benchmark returning 46.2%, 5.2% and 2.9% for the year and quarter to end March 2021 and since the funds inception respectively. This performance was despite the weak economy. Global Equity markets benefited from a flood in liquidity provided by central banks, fiscal support to the economy and those sectors that benefited from the stay at home economy. The fiscal and monetary support will continue to support equity markets in 2021. The key risks include rising inflation, high valuations and a reversal in fiscal and monetary support. Over the last 100 years, equity markets (Dow Jones) delivered an annualised performance of 6.7% p.a. based on nominal GDP growth of 6.6 % (3.1% p.a. real GDP growth and 3.5% inflation) and 0.1% of additional return for a total real return of 3.2% p.a. Based on this very long term history, as nominal GDP moves to 4.5% (2.5% real GDP and 2% inflation) with the 0.1% additional return, equity markets could return 4.6 % p.a. nominal and 2.6% p.a. real.

Property has been affected by the COVID-19 lockdown but lower levels of capital investment and development activity is curtailing new supply and creates an improving environment for existing property owners over the medium to longer term. OCGPEF is well diversified with exposure to a number of sectors that benefit from the 4th Industrial Revolution and the Lockdown including Logistics, Datacenters, Storage and Medical Research. There are also a number of sectors that benefit from secular drivers including Ageing (Seniors Housing), Post COVID-19 reopening (Student Accommodation) and Onshoring (Industrial). OCGPEF is well positioned due to its focus on REITS with positive secular demand drivers, strong management teams and superior balance sheets.

Global yields have been on a 40 year structural decline caused by ageing demographics in Advanced Economies and the inclusion of China into the global economy since the 1990s. Following the Global Financial Crisis and the onset of quantitative easing, global yields have fallen well below long term averages. Since the 1950's the U.S. 10 year yield has averaged 5.7% but fell to 1.5% during 2016 and even lower to just 0.6% by August 2020 during the initial phase of the COVID-19 pandemic. Continued massive monetary and fiscal stimulus and improving global economic growth during 1Q 2021 has driven expectations of 'reflation' which has raised global yields and led to steepening yields. The benchmark US 10-year yield reached 1.75% by end-March, up around +80 basis points (bp) since the end of December boosted partly by successive announcements of fiscal packages. By contrast, German 10-year yields rose only 20bp over the quarter to -0.4% while in the UK, the 10 year yield rose 50bp over 1Q 2021 to 0.8%. Overall, global monetary policies are likely to remain historically accommodative through 2022 which should keep short-term interest rates well anchored. If economic growth continues to rebound strongly, longer-term yields could rise further as inflation risks rise, which could lead to a further steepening in yield curves.
